

SRA Accounts Rules 2011 Training Course

A new version of the Accounts Rules was brought into effect on 6 October 2011. It is vital for partners, fee earners and accounts staff to remain fully up to date. The course aims to improve efficiency, cashflow and profitability and will cover:

- An overview of the 2011 Rules
- The recent changes to the Rules
- How to comply with the Rules practically
- Common breaches
- The role of the COFA
- What the SRA look for

6 February 2013

Armstrong Watson Kendal Office

First Floor East, Bridge Mills, Stramongate, Kendal LA9 4UB

Time: 1.30pm - 4.30pm

Cost: £145 + VAT (discounts for group bookings)

CPD: 3 hours

RSVP: By 23 January 2013

Email: emma.walker@armstrongwatson.co.uk

About the speaker:

Andy Poole

Legal Sector Director, Armstrong Watson

Andy is a highly experienced trainer and presenter, exclusively advising lawyers for the past 10 years. He provides compliance accounting, tax and SAR services to law firms as well as helping firms to improve via benchmarking, strategic consultancy, merger assistance, structural reviews and training courses. He understands and proactively informs law firms on issues that may impact on them. Andy is a member of the ICAEW Solicitors Group, speaks at national solicitors' conferences and is a regular contributor to the legal press. Andy works with law firms throughout the UK.

Armstrong Watson's growing Legal Sector team is expertly placed to provide support to law firms

For further information on that support, including case studies on our training courses, visit us online.

www.armstrongwatson.co.uk/legalsector

Call: 01539 942030

Email: andy.poole@armstrongwatson.co.uk

ArmstrongWatson[®]
Accountants & Financial Advisers